

Relevance: ★★★★★

Accession Number 1980194758

Authors Tuchmann-Duplessis H.

Institution (Tuchmann-Duplessis) Lab. Embryol., Fac. Med., 75006 Paris France

Correspondence Address Lab. Embryol., Fac. Med., 75006 Paris France

Country of Publication France

Title Influence of maternal alcoholism on the descendance.

Original Title RETENTISSEMENT DE L'ALCOOLISME MATERNAL SUR LA DESCENDANCE.

Source Bulletin de l'Academie Nationale de Medecine. 164 (2) (pp 129-133), 1980. Date of Publication: 1980.

Subject Headings alcoholism animal experiment
central nervous system congenital disorder
drug toxicity
*fetal alcohol syndrome intoxication
maternal disease
mouse
nervous system
oral drug administration
*progeny
*alcohol

Abstract Maternal alcoholism represents one of the major causes of infantile deficiency. It is also responsible in humans for 2-3 per thousand of congenital malformations. The morphological characteristics of the fetal alcohol syndrome are described. The dysmorphic risk increases with the chronicity of the maternal
